Organic Campus

The Organic Campus Program cultivates a national grassroots network of organic advocates while driving demand for organic in food service by establishing procurement policies at post-secondary institutions.

Becoming an Organic Campus distinguishes educational institutions as leaders. Through educational opportunities and by incorporating organic products into purchasing policies, campuses have a unique opportunity to engage students, administrators, institutional purchasers, and faculty members in the organic movement.

Baseline requirements must be met in order to attain the Organic Campus status. Further designation levels, Silver and Gold status, are achievable with increased commitment to organic on campus.

Sponsorship dollars will be directed to development costs, outreach activities and establishing resources and materials. Sponsor logos will be prominently displayed on all digital content including website and social media.
